

*Pistol drawn on the road to a Biodiversity Zone where farmers cultivate subsistence crops.
The locals do not know who drew it.*

A hand-drawn sketch of a handgun, likely a semi-automatic pistol, is drawn on a dirt surface. The drawing is simple, showing the outline of the slide, the barrel, and the grip. The drawing is done in a light brown or tan color, possibly with a marker or a piece of wood. The background is a textured, reddish-brown dirt surface with some small plants and debris. The drawing is positioned in the center of the image, slightly to the right.

ColombiaLand.ORG